ROYAL CANADIAN ENGINEERS (RCE). GÉNIE

The CME badge has a right-facing (when viewed from the position of the wearer) gold beaver on a circular field of brick red centred in the wreath. A royal blue band runs around the circle inscribed with the words "Engineers - Génie - Canada" in gold. On a royal blue banner below the beaver is the motto "Ubique." This version was approved in October 1976. The badge has changed to include the insignia or crown of the reigning monarch of the time but the beaver has remained a constant theme cloth shoulder insignia

during 1944, the use of embroidered corps titles as shown at left became more common, replacing in some units the formation patch style RCE titles; this type of flash was also used after 1945 and up to unification on battle dress and bush dress
